Forecast for Friday 30 Apr 2021

Weather: Showers continuing, mainly confined to ranges affected by the prevailing northeasterly flow, before becoming more widespread across southern and western areas during the afternoon and early evening. Some of the showers will be heavy, particularly in the afternoon outbreaks in the south and west, bringing a small risk of hail and thunder. Snow level around 400m.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: For any given time ranging from 85% in northeast and 95% plus in southwest, but significantly lower for prolonged spells due to the showery nature of the condition.

Visibility: Generally good or very good, becoming moderate or poor in showers, and virtually nil in hill fog.
